

qualifications and duties of health counselors, guiding principles for developing correlations, types of health education materials potentially dynamic, and guides for selecting health textbooks and for using such other teaching aids as the radio, posters, charts, graphs, and the like.

Although the book is intended primarily as a textbook for teacher-training institutions it should be a helpful reference book for principals, teachers in service, nurses, and others interested in school health education.

RUTH E. GROUT

---

ERRATUM for article entitled, "The Age Incidence of Tuberculosis and Its Significance for the Administrator," by Jean Downes and reprinted from the Milbank Memorial Fund Quarterly, Vol. xiii, No. 2, April, 1935.

---

Please change the vertical scale for Figure 2 to read 5, 10, 15, and 20 per 10,000 instead of 10, 20, 30, and 40 per 10,000.